OUTSTANDING BENEFIT OF SEASON IS STYLE SHOW AND MUSICAL

Local Talent Participated in Presenting Remarkably Fine Entertainment—Gulfport Shop Showed Interesting Costumes in Style Show Wednesday Night

An outstanding social event of the spring season in Bay St. Louis and a most successful benefit was that of the style show and musical review staged Wednesday night at the Memorial Hall of St. Joseph's Academy as a benefit for the building fund of the convent. A committee of seven women from Bay St. Louis, namely Mrs. George R. Rea, chairman, Mrs. Edw. Carrere, Mrs. A. K. Roy, Mrs. L. S. Elliott, Miss Margaret Green, Miss Genevieve Green and Miss Elsa Mauffray, and one from Pass Christian, namely, Mrs. Thornhill Broome, are responsible largely for the success of the arrangements which resulted in the fine show. They were assisted by a large number of women from the community and they express their appreciation for the excellent cooperation of local people who assisted with arrangements and the program. N. J. Bittar of the Marianne Shoppe, Gulfport, directed the style show, selecting the costumes to be shown. Mrs. Broome staged the entire affair. The bridal bouquets were given by Loraine's Flower Shop of Pass Christian and Gulfport.

The program opened with an overture by the Municipal Band directed by H. H. Ramsay. Twenty-four children directed by Mrs. A. K. Roy, gave Children's dances. Miss Ruth Ward gave a solo dance. The first part of the style show was that of the sport and day time clothes. The Indian scene was lovely. Here 12 women dressed as Indian maidens formed the chorus, namely, Mesdames, Orie Pollard, Ed. Carrere, George Rea, Asphonse Roy, Kenneth Peperdene, L. S. Elliott, W. W. Stockstill, Misses Margaret Green, Genevieve Green, Kathleen Renshaw, Elsa Mauffray and Irma Koch. Mrs. Orie Pollard was the soloist singing Pale Moon and Indian Love Call, the chorus joining in the chorus of the latter number. Mrs. Pollard's voice was in especially fine form and her singing was excellent. The afternoon clothes show followed the Indian scene.

The chorus, gowned as Spanish ladies, presented the two singing numbers, Carissima and Lady of Spain. The evening clothes show followed the Spanish scene. Mrs. Leo Ellisworth Kenney sang a group of Opera Gems. Her very lovely voice was beautifully suited to the numbers selected and her rendition was delightful.

The grand finale of the show was the wedding scene in which the vested choir sang the Bridal Chorus from the Rose Maiden. Those taking part in the bride scene were: Miss Louise Carrere, bride; Miss Genevieve Green, maid of honor; Miss Effie Graham, Power, Alice Camors, Ann Partridge, Yvonne Lacoste, Mello Nix and Vincennes Favalaro, bridesmaids; Faye Roy and Eva Belle Prague, flower girls. Mrs. Winfield Partridge played all accompaniments. In the bride scene she was assisted by H. H. Ramsay, violinist.

MOREAU IS SPEAKER AT ROTARY

Local President of Club Presides at Breakfast and Speaks at Banquet

Chas G. Moreau, president of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, who attended the annual convention of the Louisiana-Mississippi district of this organization was highly honored by being the speaker at the community luncheon and also presided at the presidents' breakfast. Mr. Moreau's address follows:

"I wish to express my thanks, appreciation, and privilege as well, to be here today to address the community luncheon of the two-day session of Mississippi-Louisiana Seventeenth District session of Rotary Clubs. It is indeed a rare privilege, when one stops to think that there are about fifty clubs in the district, composed of the classes of representative citizens and doings of this vast district. The term Rotarian stamps one as none other than a Rotarian and that in itself seems to be sufficient. To tell a Rotarian about the things he should know and do, and the principles that he should practice in his every day life of fellowship and Rotary precepts would indeed be superfluous. Men do not seek to become Rotarians. They are rather singled out and sought. They are made of the requisite material before they become members, and for this reason, in becoming a member of the Rotary band, that band that encircles the world, they are already of that material and calibre from which all Rotarians emerge.

"No Rotarian is a shirker,—on the contrary, he is a builder and a constructive force in his city or town. It is for that reason he becomes a community builder.

"He is known head and shoulders above other men, as a rule. Of course all builders are not Rotarians, but, permit me to say, all Rotarians are builders. They are the same little group who belong to every band of workers. They never shirk. Their hand is ever in their pocket. They never fail to back their convictions with the wherewith necessary to put a subject over. They have never been weighed and found wanting—for two reasons, it was never necessary to weigh them and they have never been lacking in the test. "It might be noticed that Rotarians in a community are ever affiliated with that group of citizens who are up and doing. In Bay St. Louis, like in every community, it is always the same men who attend meetings, who put their shoulders to the wheel and their hands into their pockets. This small group in every community, true, is not composed entirely of Rotarians, but it is always noted they predominate.

"Show me a live town, and I will in turn show you a live Rotary Club. They seem to travel in pairs,—no community is complete without its luncheon club. "In Bay St. Louis we proposed to establish the Chamber of Commerce. This organization has accomplished much. It has promoted and put thru the major improvements of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County during the past five years. The Chamber of Commerce, son of our Rotary Club, has been instrumental in more than could be ordinarily told. There was much business that came up that was not exactly within the province of the Rotary Club, hence we organized and launched the Chamber of Commerce, now in its sixth year.

"Our Rotary Club is in the seventh year of its existence, and recently we celebrated our 350th luncheon, never missing one weekly luncheon. We have a program every week, because that is part of the community spirit. Community spirit and co-operation are ever most in our minds, and to have a club minus this spirit would indeed be an organization with little command for itself. "Our outstanding community work is a night school for boys and girls who cannot attend school during the day, who must work during the day. Registration for this school has averaged thirty-five and is in its fifth year. It has many pupils, and it is a most effective work.

KILN COMMUNITY PREPARES TO CAN VEGETABLES, FRUIT

Last Season's Record of Over 6,000 cans To Be Bettered This Year.

E. E. Lumpkin, superintendent and agriculturist at the Kiln Vocational High School, will remain at the school during the summer season doing farm work throughout the season. He states that the people of the Kiln community are planning to can thousands of cans of fruit and vegetables this season. The community building is now complete and ready for use for this community canning project in which the pressure canner is used by people from the entire section who congregate for the canning work in groups. Last year over 6,000 cans were canned by the people of the community and this year it is planned to better this record, Mr. Lumpkin says.

RESIDENT INJURED IN CAR CRASH

Head Goes Through Windshield, Severely Cutting Neck

Gus E. Temple of this city was seriously injured in an automobile collision on West Beach Boulevard at Pass Christian, Sunday night, when the car in which he and his wife were riding in company with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mann also of the Bay was struck by a roadster supposed to have been driven by a young man named Young from Long Beach.

Mr. Temple's head went through the windshield and his neck was severely cut. None of the other occupants were seriously hurt, receiving only minor bruises. Mr. Temple was rushed to the King's Daughters local hospital for emergency treatment and later was transferred to his home. He suffered minor contusions and lacerations of the face and body and it was necessary to take 20 stitches in his throat at the hospital.

The automobile which struck the Mann car continued on its way after the accident and was sought by officers. It bore a Mississippi license plate and a Biloxi name tag.

The party was returning from an outing at Biloxi Naval Station when struck by the car.

Regular Meeting of Chamber of Commerce Next Tuesday Night

Members of Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce and others interested will take notice of the regular monthly meeting of the association, which will take place at headquarters, on Tuesday night of next week, at 8 o'clock.

It is planned much business will come up before the association for discussion and to be disposed of.

Tried For Robbery.

Two white boys said to be of the Sellers neighborhood, whose names were not available, were tried Monday morning at Justice of the Peace Fuente's court for stealing some materials from the state highway department, were bound over to action of the grand jury. The articles said to have been taken April 18 included an ax, saw, drum of gasoline and some lubricating oil. A third man, said to have owned the car used by the two men charged, was tried and released.

school first was installed and are making marked progress. The City Superintendent, S. J. Ingram, also a Rotarian, is in charge, and to him is due much of the success of the school. We teach three nights a week at the High School and have three teachers, teaching academic courses and giving special courses in business, typewriting, etc. "This it will be seen the Bay Rotary Club is a community builder in that it originated and contributes the lion's share to the up-keep of a night school for boys and girls for this section. Men and women may attend. It is a grand work and it might well be said that those who are profiting by it are showing their appreciation by taking advantage of the opportunity so generously offered by Rotary. Other sections might have their community work but we challenge any club to do not better, but more effective work.

HOME IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Home of Supervisor Calvin
Shaw at Crane Creek Destroyed by Fire Tuesday Noon.

Entailing a loss of some three thousand dollars or more, the one-story frame dwelling of Supervisor Calvin Shaw, Beat 3, was totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday noon, the premises located at Crane Creek, postoffice Perkins.

The family was getting ready for their noon-hour dinner when fire was discovered on the shingle roof, near the kitchen flue. It was at once evident how the fire had originated. With no fire protection the frame building was quickly consumed. However, much of the furnishings and furniture was saved.

"There was no insurance," said Supervisor Shaw to The Echo, "for the reason that four years ago the rate on a policy became out of the question since there was no fire protection afforded by the neighborhood. Hence, I was forced to let the policy go by default when its terms expired.

"Our loss is estimated at over $3,000 and comes at a time when it is hardest to sustain a burden of any kind. With no insurance and losing the building in its entirety, I sustain a heavy loss."

Mr. Shaw is well known in Bay St. Louis as well as over the county and has the personal sympathy of many in this adversity.

PERKINS INJURED BY GLASS

College Coach Has Eye Hurt
When Windshield is Broken by Gravel.

Coach Grady Perkins of St. Stanislaus College, suffered an injury to his eye while returning from the state athletic meet at Starkville over the week-end. A piece of loose gravel is said to have struck the windshield, shattering the glass and sending some of the glass into the eye of Mr. Perkins. He was taken to Jackson to a hospital for treatment. He was able to return to Bay St. Louis Monday. The injury was thought at first to be much more serious than later examination disclosed.

Five of the college athletes and Coach Perkins had attended the state meet and the boys brought home high honors, but their success was dimmed when their popular coach suffered this injury.

Special Meeting Chamber of Commerce This Friday Night

A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce has been called for this Friday night, 7:30 o'clock, at headquarters, Masonic Temple, to which not only are members of Chamber of Commerce expected but all business men paying a privilege tax are urged to be present.

It is planned to adopt a uniform method whereby Bay St. Louis merchants and others may be able to collect this 2 per cent gross sales, bill recently passed by Mississippi Legislature, and which will go into effect May 1.

Merchants and others who are not members are urged to be present. The Chamber of Commerce wishes to assist one and all by assembling and discussing not only the best but the uniform way of meeting the situation. Will the merchant pass on the tax directly to the consumer, and how, or will he absorb it all? The latter is impossible. Hence let the business men meet this Friday night. Without further notice.

POPPY DAY SALES ARE ANNOUNCED

American Legion Auxiliary
Prepares For Biggest Sale
In History.

The American Legion Auxiliary of Bay St. Louis is planning for the observance of the annual Poppy Day, Saturday, May 28, when the usual sale of the little red poppies is fostered by the local units throughout the country, the purpose of the sale being to secure funds for the use in rehabilitation work among non-compensated ex-service men of the World War.

"We have ordered 500 poppies, the largest number ever attempted to be sold in Bay St. Louis," Mrs. Laurent Dickson, president of the Auxiliary said, in discussing the sale. She stated that the women hoped to dispose of all of the poppies and secure a large sum to be used for rehabilitation work. This phase of work is carried on through the state department of the organization and reaches each year many former soldiers and their families who have no other assistance.

The poppies used in Hancock county have been made at the Veterans' Hospital at Gulfport where all of the poppies used in Mississippi are manufactured. The American Legion pays non-compensated ex-service men the sum of one cent each for making the poppies, and the material is furnished for the making. The work of manufacturing the poppies is handled through the Auxiliary and this women's department has charge of the sales.

Mrs. Dickson has named on the committee to have charge of the Poppy Day sale in Bay St. Louis the following: Mrs. Douglas Bourgeois, Mrs. Herbert Laudon, Miss Azalie Favre, and Mrs. Dickson will serve on the committee also. In advance of the sale an appeal is made to the people of the city and community to cooperate in this worthy cause and aid in "putting it over big."

The chapter received an invitation from St. Vincent's college to hold its next convention in 1934 at Shreveport. The executive board will select the meeting place.

By WALKER WOOD,
Secretary of State

There has been a story carried by a number of the metropolitan newspapers that 60,000 Mississippi homes were sold for taxes. The story carried a Jackson date.

The story is one of those "high-powered" sensational "played up" stories that would make the president of the Ananias Club blush because a little truth is worse than a whole lie.

Fifty Sheriffs Reply.

In order to find out how many farms and homes were actually sold for taxes on the first Monday of April I wrote every sheriff in the state. I received fifty replies from the eighty two counties in Mississippi.

Thirty counties sold lands and homes for taxes as provided by law on the first Monday in April. Twenty counties deferred their tax sale until a later date.

The report of the thirty counties that sold delinquent property for taxes showed that there were 6,206 farm homes sold and 1,657 town homes offered or sold.

Average homes sold for taxes in thirty counties reported were 262 per county.

If the ratio of the thirty two counties not heard from and the twenty counties that deferred the sale hold in the premises, there will be sold in the state 21,444 farm and city homes for taxes instead of 60,000, as the "wild cat" story led the public to believe.

Two Years Respite.

The "wild cat" story that is going the rounds of the press would leave readers under the impression that 60,000 homes and 7,000,000 acres of land were sold for taxes. The owners would have to move off immediately and the agricultural interest of the estate would be disrupted. A more false impression could not be presented. When land is sold for taxes in Mississippi, the owner has two years in which to pay the taxes and damages and his farming interest is in no sense disturbed.

The financial condition of the people of Mississippi is not as bad as in some other states and no worse than any state. The conditions are due to the general depression and over-production of crops instead of "crop failures" as the "wild cat" story would impress the public.

"Pay-Off" Hope Is Expressed.

Mississippi has felt the depression as other states but no state is in a better shape to work out and meet every obligation than this state. Mississippi will balance her budget, pay all obligations promptly and practically every farm or home that is delinquent for taxes will "pay off" within the time specified by law and the great agricultural, industrial and business interest of this leading state of the South will not be disturbed.

Target of "Pee Wee" Writers.

Mississippi has tolerated "wild cat" publicity with just enough "half baked truth" in it that does not make it a respectable lie. The inflated, imaginary mind that produced the story of 60,000 homes were sold in Mississippi for taxes is the type of writer that does more harm than good and Mississippi is too frequently being used as the target for practice of some little "pee wee" writer who has no regard for facts or truth. The sad part of the (remises is that some of the supposed to be reliable news pattering organizations fall for a lot of "bunk" without verifying it before sent through their news channels.

Mississippi is about "fed up" on being used by press "high jackers" to put over sensational "played up" stuff. We will stand for the truth any time and any where, the truth and nothing but the truth must be told.

Coast Press Club To Meet At Biloxi On Monday Night Next

Lady and gentlemen members of the Coast Press Club will be interested to learn the regular (May) monthly meeting of Mississippi Coast Press Club will be held at Biloxi, the dinner preceding the business meeting to be held at New Biloxi Hotel, on the beach. THE NAVAL SITUATION

SOMETIME in the near future the United States Senate will have for consideration a bill authorizing the construction of the American Navy to the limits assigned by international treaties. This measure will not appropriate any money, hence does not start construction, but primarily adopts a certain building program for future years so that it can be planned in advance. The Senate Naval Affairs Committee in February described the present situation as follows:

"At the Washington conference in 1922 the United States set an example to the world in disarmament by scrapping 29 capital ships, built and building; since that time we have further followed this example of cutting down armament by building but 36 vessels, while the other naval powers have carried on extensive naval construction; i. e., Great Britain has built or appropriated for 96 vessels; Japan 126 vessels; France 152 vessels, and Italy 109 vessels.

"At the present time Japan has a building program approved and appropriated for, which when completed will bring her Navy by the end of the year 1936 up to the full strength allowed by the treaties, except for one aircraft carrier and six destroyers; Great Britain, to reach treaty strength, will have to build 80 ships. We, alone, have no adequate future building program, and must authorize the building of approximately 118 ships to attain full strength."

THE HOPE OF OUR FUTURE.

WHEN one considers the fact that it would be possible to remake the world through the proper education and physical development of a single generation of children, it is something of a mystery why adult citizens do not give more thought and attention to the welfare of minors. The people of Bay St. Louis like those of other municipalities, have made considerable progress along the line of child welfare, but much remains to be attempted.

Compared to the treatment experienced by some unfortunate children in past centuries, the child of today has many advantages but, in truth, one must admit that only a fair start has been made in this direction.

The prevailing idea in some communities that a modest amount of schooling is sufficient to fulfill the obligations of society to childhood is gradually becoming obsolete. More and more every year the grownups are accepting new responsibilities in regard to the childhood of their communities.

Bay St. Louis has no particular reason to hang its head in shame but neither has it any occasion for undue boasting in this respect. We are treating our children about as well as other communities but modern study has revealed so many avenues of activity that it is time for all of us to revise our opinions and make plans for the greater development of all children living in our midst.

ABIDING FAITH A BUILDER.

THE people of the United States, including some in Bay St. Louis, seem to be suffering from a delusion that everything is going to cease to have any value.

How else can one account for the continued decline in prices that has amazed all the world? What is the cause of this panicky loss of faith?

Well, to make a long story short, too many people take the opinions of others as a basis for their action. Hence, whenever a loss is suffered they lose hope and no solid substance upon which abiding faith can rest.

For example, all of us know that the period through which we are passing cannot last. We realize that our fathers passed through worse depressions. We are certain that somewhere, in the dim and distant future, everything will be all right again. What we lack is the knowledge that would lend assurance to our hopes, and the intelligence to appreciate abiding values in all things, whether they be commercial, or spiritual.

COOLIDGE PAYS

LAST fall former President Coolidge made a radio talk on insurance, in the course of which he offered policy holders the following advice: "Beware of the so-called 'twister' and 'abstractor' or any agent who offers to save money for you by replacing your policy in another company."

As a result an insurance man of St. Louis brought suit and the newspapers report that Mr. Coolidge's lawyer apologized, paid $2,500 and had the suit discontinued. Mr. Coolidge evidently paid to avoid the embarrassment of a trial, because his remarks would hardly appear to justify damages.

Heavy advertising is a sign of better business and it is beginning to appear.

People who believe in building Bay St. Louis are the ones who trade here.

Hopeful men are now anxiously watching small vegetables growing in their gardens.

People who have things might as well save them. There is no use to give them away at prevailing prices. Better times are coming and you will add on to what you have.

THE HONOR OF WOMEN.

THE HONOR of American womanhood is now in the hands of a jury in Honolulu," says The Chicago Herald and Examiner during the trial of the four defendants, accused of lynching the Hawaiian for his alleged attack upon the wife of a naval officer.

The Chicago newspaper says the case is of particular interest "because it involves the question of the safety for decent women not only in that garden spot of the Pacific, but wherever the white and other races are brought into contact."

Frankly this Hearst newspaper argues for an acquittal if the jury believes that Kahahawai was the ringleader of the gang that perpetrated the brutal and indecent assault upon a white American woman. Brushing aside all other questions as secondary and subordinate the editor says the "real case" is the "cause" of the killing and "not the killing itself."

In other words, if Kahahawai was guilty of the crime charged against him, he got what he deserved, and it was natural that the husband and the mother of the outraged woman should take the law in their own hands and thereby vindicate the sanctity of womanhood.

We have heard this doctrine before. While it conflicts with some "law and order" talk it continues to have behind it the elemental force of nature and will continue to be asserted under similar circumstances, however much one praises the "sanctity of the law."

The simplest way to repeal the prohibition laws is to elect congressmen pledged to its repeal. The opportunity comes around this fall.

GOVERNMENT COSTS TOO MUCH

THE TAX levies necessary to meet the huge cost of government in the United States is estimated to be equivalent to one day's labor every week from every person in the country.

Twenty cents out of every dollar of national income are required to defray the expenses of the various federal, state and local governing bodies. Annually, for every man, woman and child in the United States this means a per capita tax of $110.

Melvin T. Traylor, a Chicago banker, says that annual tax levy mounts to $14,000,000,000, or $2,000,000,000 more than the gross value of all agricultural production in the United States in 1929. Before our citizens can earn one dollar for their own use they must contribute $33,000,000 per day for the support of state and local governments, and $13,000,000 per day, in addition, for the federal government.

Whether the readers of The Echo pay more or less than the average it is becoming plain, in the present stress, that government is costing too much. While most of us would return vital activities there is no disputing the overlapping of bureaus, the duplication of functions, the enlarged payrolls and many unnecessary agencies of the governments.

Reductions must come. All of us should realize this fact when we consider that expenditures for government have increased from three to almost fifteen billions of dollars since 1913. This is about 400 per cent. It is too much. It means, say some, that 18,000,000 Americans depend upon governmental taxation for their livelihood.

Men who have a habit of postponing their work might recall the established fact that few late trains make up their lost time.

THE ONLY WAY.

IN A RECENT appearance before Congress a prominent automobile manufacturer pointed out the only way for prosperity to return.

Mr. Graham, representing the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, said: "What the country needs is employment, wages, these are the only factors that can bring permanent economic recovery."

Mr. Graham is on the right trail. Employment and wages for millions of workers will mean more for the stimulation of industry than any amount of money made available for big financial corporations. That is why many prominent men favor an extensive program of public works.

Trying to revive prosperity by providing money for banks and financial firms is not the proper method. Employment at profitable wages for the unemployed would bring prosperity back in a few months. Agricultural workers are included in the above term, because unless they are paid profitably for their labor the country suffers by a loss of purchasing-power.

Business will pick up, and prosperity gradually return, only after the workers and farmers make enough money so they can buy manufactured products. This is very plain and apparent to anyone who gives the subject careful consideration.

Advertising in The Echo is our idea of letting the world know that you have something to sell.

MOTHERS AND DEATH

BEFORE the flood of oratory and eulogies calls our attention to Mother's Day it might be well to consider the statement of Dr. Louis I. Rubin, who says that the lives of 10,000 mothers could be saved each year if America adopted the practice which prevails in Europe of properly supervising maternity.

Seven mothers die in the United States for every thousand five children born but in Denmark it is only 3.2, in Holland 3.4 and in England only 4.3 per thousand live children.

Dr. Rubin declares that there is no reason for such fatalities in our country and goes into detailed suggestions for reducing the death rate.

Without any technical discussion of the problem as it affects Bay St. Louis may we not wonder how much of the Mother's Day sentiment will find expression here through some plan to aid future mothers to escape an avoidable death?

Most people are now willing to admit that the boom days have vanished from the scene.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

A Review of the News of Last Week's Echo.

CHICAGO, ILL., April 28.

This is "Better Homes" week.

The Echo didn't let it slip by without giving our readers due notice either. Not only was Mayor Traub's proclamation prominently displayed, but his appeal was supplemented by one of those forceful editorials for which The Echo is known.

Now homes are perking up on the inside, and getting painted on outside, if they need it. Lawns, gardens, back yards and even alleys come in for attention.

Dispositions will brighten as the appearance of town and countryside improves. Yes, the activity incident to a general cleaning up opens the pores, tones up circulation and makes us feel better inside and out.

Then old Mother Nature does her part in the annual renovating by bringing forth almost forgotten plants and flowers.

The Bay St. Louis P-T-A. received state wide notice last week due to Mrs. C. C. Clark and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, its brilliant and able representatives at the Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers held in Meridian.

The homemakers in that most useful organization know plenty about housecleaning. Their own homes are so well kept that they have little need for annual occasion for that purpose.

But they'll all do their part in making the community brighter and better, you may be sure of that. And besides, they'll find time for thought and energy to devote to the good of the schools, knowing that in them the homemakers of tomorrow are being developed.

Well, here in the local News I read that Mr. Leo Seal, prominent banker, had business at the State Capital last week.

Was there some housecleaning going on in his home that day? I wonder? I don't suppose so, and I hope my well intentioned familiarity doesn't offend. A man's house is his castle, so says the common law.

But pray tell me, what does the common law, or the uncommon either, know about housecleaning? When that ceremony starts, mere man is apt to find himself about as useful as some piece of heavy furniture that's forever in the way.

The best thing for him to do is to take himself off where he can keep busy with things about which he is familiar.

Social minded folks are not able to fully enjoy their own fine homes until they have done something to brighten the lives of others.

Now, by social-minded people, I don't mean only those who go in for so-called "society" indeed I do not. I mean those like the members of the Legion Auxiliary and their co-workers who patronized their card party at the Oriole Tuesday evening.

Society and "society" both owe much to such public benefactors.

J. R. Scharff has remodeled and re-arranged his I. G. A. store, says The Echo. Well, this is the accepted season for such improvements.

This year, however, those who make them are entitled to recognition for their far-sightedness. Budgets are lower than they have been for some time. But Mr. Scharff knows that some improvement must be made each year to prevent a "running down at the heels" and a greater expense later.

Sometimes there's an inclination to clean house in public places, as well as in homes, along about this time of the year.

Voters, in particular, seem to have that disposition this year. But I note that the Rotarians of Bay St. Louis have elected much the same official personnel as that of last year.

Now more than before, is such an expression of satisfaction and confidence a great compliment to those who have been in public service.

Fire destroyed the Pass Christian winter home of Mrs. C. N. Grovner, according to the account in The Echo. A loss by fire is absolutely an unexpected one, and that makes it harder to bear.

Property may have dropped in value, but a fire loss is greater than it would have been when higher price levels prevailed. The wherewithal to rebuild is so much harder to obtain, that's the reason.

And that is why Mrs. Grovner's friends are so much more sympathetic than they would have been had the fire occurred in a time of plenty.

Pious folks will gather again on Sunday to hear the pastors of Bay St. Louis deliver their messages. They are aware that better homes depend on spiritual housecleaning, much more than upon brushes and paint.

So they get together to consider things not of this world.

They guard against being carried away by material interests, which after all, are the most immaterial in the great scheme of things. The devoted churchgoers drag facts from the recesses of their minds, they ponder on them and go forth from the services refreshed and strengthened.

BOND ON PROHIBITION.

(Editorial by Clayton Bond, Gulfport Guide.)

W. F. BOND, State Superintendent of Education for Mississippi, has the following to say in one of his weekly publicity squibs that he circulates through the press.

We notice that a poll is being taken on the repealing of the 18th Amendment by one of the magazines used in many of our schools. We should keep in mind the fact that this poll will give nothing except the ideas of those who have a chance to vote in it. It will not decide what is right or what is best for the country or the individual.

We do not question either the sincerity or motives of our good friend. In these weekly "political paragraphs" he sends out the very often writes words of wisdom.

What he does do in the foregoing words is belittle the patriotic purpose back of this important poll. He says "that this poll will give nothing except the ideas of those who have a chance to vote on it. It will not decide what is right or what is best for the country."

What more would we want from such a poll than the "ideas" of our people? How can Bond say it will not decide what is right or best? If such a poll reveals the fact that the majority of ten or twenty million adults in a Democracy decide that a change is needed for the better, is that deciding nothing?

Sometimes I wonder if we had gone in the direction we were moving just before we precipitated prohibition, if we would not have more temperance today—even in the schools. I wonder if we did not move too fast. I wonder, after all, if EDUCATION is not a more effective weapon than FORCE, in any system of pedagogy or any school of thought.

Bond captioned his paragraph "STRONG DRINK IS A MENACE." We agree with him. But we have it—and it is stronger than ever. What shall we do with it?

We commend the Literary Digest for its excellent and stimulating contribution to the thought of the nation. The Digest is seeking the truth—seeking the facts, and facts are fundamental to education, and we have even heard Bond say, "THE TRUTH SHALL MAKE YOU FREE."

CALLS BOND'S HAND.

(Editorial Biloxi News.)

A recent editorial by Chas. G. Moreau, editor of The Sea Coast Echo, Bay St. Louis, takes W. F. Bond, state superintendent of education, to task for using his weekly school letter to argue anent prohibition.

Mr. Moreau points out that Mr. Bond has enjoyed a great amount of free publicity, meanwhile costing the state much postage and newspapers good money for type-setting.

Mr. Moreau, profits politically from the letters and now seeks to expound his opinions at the expense of editors.

Mr. Bond, in his letter, referred to the Literary Digest poll, said it proves nothing except the ideas of those who have a chance to vote on it, certainly not deciding what is right or best for the country or individual. Further, it should be enforced, ending up with the conclusion that in his humble opinion strong drink is one of the deadliest enemies the human race has ever had.

The bulletin in question is the last one The Echo will print, Mr. Moreau says. He does not think that such a bulletin or weekly message is conducive to the academic or constructive policies of schools. He advises Mr. Bond to stick closely to his school work, declaring there is much to do without going outside and delving into a matter that has become a political issue.

Mr. Moreau's stand is decidedly wet. He says prohibition breeds crime and corruption, costs millions in an attempt to enforce and deprives the country of millions of dollars in taxes. He deplores the wave of racketeering and its associated crimes. He says the issue is neither an economic nor moral question.

Take your pick. We're solely interested in that phase of weekly letters from politicians and others which will help us decide whether an editor is right in printing them or waving them into the waste-basket with all the other bunk and propaganda that comes in as regular as the tide.

Spurring the Sluggard.

The Scot is frequently the goat when jokes are on tap, but not always. Listen to this:

In an English political meeting one of the candidates patriotically orated: "I was born an Englishman, I have lived an Englishman, I hope I shall die an Englishman." From the back of the hall, in an unmistakable accent, came the question, "Mon hae ye no ambition?"—North Carolina Christian Advocate.

HOW STATE SALES TAX WILL AFFECT BUSINESS PEOPLE

Business and Professional Men Exempt $1,200—Different Applications Of Law

The sales tax enacted by the Mississippi legislature provides the following rate on various business enterprises:

Retailers, two per cent; wholesalers, one-eighth of one per cent; manufacturers of brick, drain tile, building tile, sewer pipe, cement and clay products, one per cent; bottled soft drinks, one per cent on gross income of manufacture; ice factories, one-fourth of one per cent; cotton seed oil mills, one-fourth of one per cent; lumber, cotton mills, timber products and automobile accessories, one-fourth of one per cent; automobile, tractor and truck dealers, one per cent; industrial gas and electric sales and income from street railways, two per cent; railroads, buses, pipe lines, telegraph and telephone companies, sleeping cars, and express, two per cent of gross; severance, oil, two per cent; gas, two and one-half per cent; timber, limestone, sand and gravel, with freight deducted, two per cent; and all those paying privilege taxes, including lawyers, newspapers, doctors, dentists, accountants, engineers, architects, gins, compresses, insurance agents, cleaning and pressing, repair shops, real estate agents, brokers, commission merchants and hotels, two per cent of gross.

All classifications falling under the gross receipts tax are entitled to a $1,200 exemption under provisions of the bill.

As an example of the $1,200 exemption clause application, a business affected by the act having total retail sales for the year of $1,500 would have to pay the tax on only $300.

In the same manner as attorney or other professional man would not pay the tax on the first $1,200 of his gross receipts for the year.

VETERANS HISSIED FOR ATTACK UPON BONUS PROPOSALS

Group Declares Move Unpatriotic in Testimony Before Committee

Washington, April 25.—New money plans for cashing the soldiers' bonus were assailed by organized manufacturers as "economic bunk" today in a House hearing broken by the hissed resentment of veterans against former war comrades who opposed the $2,400,000,000 payment.

Shortly after James A. Emery registered the strong opposition of the National Manufacturers' Association before the ways and means committee, Fred C. Reynolds took the stand as spokesman for a group of Baltimore veterans opposed to the bonus payment.

Reynolds said that every justifiable claim of the able-bodied veteran has been met by the government and attacked the Patman bonus bill as "class legislation."

"We want you to know that there are some veterans who consider this appeal unpatriotic," he said.

This statement was hissed by other veterans who have been crowding the committee chamber at every hearing. A muttered "throw him out" was audible from the rear of the room.

Representative Heartill Ragon, Democrat, Arkansas, immediately objected to "this demonstration." Representative Henry T. Rainey, the Democratic leader who was presiding, rapped for order and warned spectators the rules must be observed.

No further expressions were heard when Gaylor Lee Clark, who came with Reynolds from Baltimore, also opposed the payment. An atmosphere of strong resentment persisted, however.

"I do not believe the veterans are honestly and faithfully led," said Clark, who enlisted as a private and left the army as a captain.

"I think if the proposition had been put up to them squarely they would not be for it. Veterans will holler for what they can get, but when it comes to doing something to disrupt the government if they do not get it, that is all the bunk."

Emery said confidence, not money, is needed by the country.

An Undertaker's Undertaking.

A candidate for Valhalla reposed in his cushioned box at the Nick undertaking parlors. Chicago. Mrs. Nick and two friends, Mrs. Ellen Daly, and Mrs. Lila Furatovac, were viewing Mr. Nick's handiwork.

"Just as lifelike" murmured the admiring ladies. Then the corpse did what no well behaved corpse should do. He snored. The women screamed, of course, and Mr. Nick came running in.

Being a real undertaker, Nick looked first at the coffin and then underneath it. From there he brought forth John Killias. John rubbed his eyes, yawned and then explained that he had been indulging in some southside "syrup" and had strolled into the undertaking parlor for a short repose.

The judge warned John against trying to crash the gate to the ferry that crosses the Styx, and then let him go.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

CAMPUS RAMBLINGS.

Texas and Duke were both very much impressed with the campus of Ole Miss. The fair co-eds seemed to decorate the landscape everywhere. Texas fell for a petite blonde—but Burnett had a hard time convincing Texas that he must talk of something else. Andrade says that Texas met his equal in throwing the well known product from the Texas plains—Burnett can lead him a merry chase and still give him three's and four's. Mackie still hopes and hopes for an easy road to obtain the things that are required for a decent bookkeeping book, but alas the hopes don't arrive. The Juniors have such swellings about their craniums because they took a ball game from the Seniors that we are thinking seriously of obtaining some shoe horns for their hats. "Canal Street" is now a thing of the past Breux, Red and Co. will now have to confine themselves to the alley. Popeye is clamoring for a solo for the Minstrel, we hope he gets it as the folks will certainly enjoy his beautiful build and his sonorous voice. "Popeye" and "Ty" Cobb had a scrap the other day, Pop won the marathon but Ty won all the glory with his dukes. If any one has a spare Almanac describing the various ills that man is heir to, please donate same to Papa Dees. "Dago" Taormina has a toe that certainly needs attention, we wish, in fact, we explore some on to relieve him as we will all soon have all our toes out of commission if we keep on hearing about THAT toe. Hickman has developed a sore case of ulcers of the stomach (Papa Dees attention) an operation will be imperative. We hear that the soloists for the coming minstrel are Lapeyronnie, Kelvin, Seuzeneaux, Ferchaud, Payment, Motty, R. Roth, Taormina and Judan. The chorus will be made up of the best in the school—the jokes will be as modern as the songs.

SPORTS. Our three man track team composed of Ducasa, Linam and Andrade did themselves nobly last week. In all that garnered 17 points. "Duke" took the 440 easily; in fact, he trotted in the last twenty five yards. He also took the half mile in easy fashion. "Texas" broke the State record by about five feet, he could have done as well in the discus had he asked for a measurement in his trial throw. Andrade took fourth place in the mile and believe us he had some competition.

This week end we will have the pleasure of entertaining the Laurel High School track team in a dual meet. The boys from Laurel always give good account of themselves in all field of sports and this will be no exception. Last year we won from them 59 1/2 to 61. The mile relay last year gave us the meet. So all you lovers of the cinder path come out Saturday afternoon and you will have an afternoon of fun. The Stanislaus entries will most probably be as follows: 100 yard, Garcia, Derby and Kidd; 220 yard, Garcia, Kidd and Verlander; 440 Ducasa, Flink and Roth; 880 yard, Ducasa, Roth and Garcia; mile, Andrade, Verlander; 220 low hurdles, Kidd, Cascio; 120 high hurdles, Richarme; Shot Put, Linam, Daigle, Weatherford; Discus Linam, Daigle, Weatherford; broad jump, Baquet, Artigues, Verlander; high jump, Verlander, Gerchow, Gray; Pole Vault, Gerchow, Judlin, Newman; Relay, Ducasa, Garcia, Baquet, Artigues, Kidd, Flink and Roth.

The meet will start promptly at 2:30 gates will be open at two.

Ha! A Bovine at Judgement

She stood at the bar of justice. Her perspiring accuser, Stephen Seys addressed Sergt. Earl Casperson of the Zion City Police station: "I want her booked for trespassing larceny and malicious mischief. She's black hearted and she comes to my farm as regularly as a poor relation. She eats my fodder and then goes home."

Sergt. Casperson was puzzled, and well he might be. Mr. Seys was asking the incarceration of a cow belonging to his neighbors, the Ower brothers.

The owners, however, promptly responded to the police call, and hurried to bail bossy out. They agreed to pay Mr. Seys for his hay and corn, inasmuch as they received the milk that resulted therefrom. And through it all, the cow kept an insulting eye on both her owners and her accuser. She cared little who got the milk. She had had the food she craved.

Thus Have The Mighty Fallen.

A certain Pharaoh may have been a Big Shot in ancient Egypt, but in modern Poland he's only a poor fish. When his mummy arrived at Gdynia, addressed to Warsaw university, customs officials were at first unable to fix tariff classification.

Following a general conference of inspectors, however, the mummy was assessed the same duty charged against dried fish.

CURRENT COMMENT

A POET, writing about the faithfulness of women, said: "She when disciples fled could danger brave; Last at the cross and earliest at the grave."

Women have not changed much in a couple of thousand years. A discarded wife of forty years ago has mortgaged her property and turned up to help out her aforesaid husband at his trial for murder.

Spinach is reported to be good for the eyesight. Looking at spinach is not so bad. It is the eating of it that makes trouble.

The Washington Star has relieved more than one paragraph writer who is trying to think of something to say about the Honolulu murder. "A homicide may have provoked so atrocious as to need no psycho-analyst to suggest temporary insanity as the cause."

Norway never has liked the insinuation that the account of the Viking discovery of America is a mere fable, and has a practical way of proving that her sailors had entered an American port after a voyage of more than twenty thousand miles.

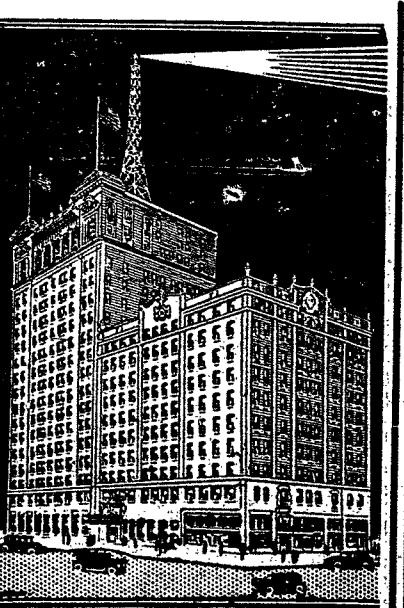

Folks who are wondering what ought to be done to suppress Soviet and communistic propaganda in the United States, can ponder over the answer printed in an eastern paper in response to the inquiry of a man who wanted to know what he should do about some mice that were in the parlor organ. He was advised to drive out the mice, and then stop up the holes.

The brain of an eminent mathematician who committed suicide recently, will be turned over to scientists for examination. The doctors may learn much from it, but the dull gray matter will tell no story of the soul torture that led the unfortunate teacher to end his days. Maybe if a good neighbor had exerted himself in a homely way two weeks ago, he would have found that he had opportunity and resources of far greater value than those of the dead man's dissectors.

The father of Charley Ross refused to ransom his son, on the ground that to do so would encourage kidnapping. A North Carolina judge has received a twelve month jail sentence for mutilating the public records in an attempt to save his daughter from the consequences of alleged embezzlement. One hardy knows which dad to applaud.

As an example of the curious ways which exist for making a living, notice might be taken of the circumstance that the telephone books of large cities direct inquiries to agencies that furnish human blood on short notice, for transfusions and other hospital activities. Those who believe that good will come out of harping on the depression, can point out that the price of blood has dropped from $50 to $35 a pint.

About a thousand persons were rescued recently from a wrecked Japanese ship. In order to emphasize the value of the service rendered, it may be recalled that something like one fourth that number of Pilgrim Fathers were enough to open the unknown land and establish a stable government in New England.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

In many homes it is the custom to have one's family or friends in to Sunday night supper. This is a pleasant habit and things will move more smoothly if preparations are made on Saturday. These recipes are suitable for supper, some may be prepared the day before; others that take little time and are made from ingredients likely to be on hand.

Cucumber Salad

1 tablespoon gelatin
2 tablespoons lemon juice.
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons onion juice
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup grated cucumbers
1 package cream cheese
Salt.

Soften gelatin in cold water, then dissolve it in boiling water. Add salt, lemon juice, onion juice with the cucumbers which have been greted without removing the peel. Let chill until it begins to set, whip with egg beater until a thick froth, then fold in the softened cheese. Pour into mold. Serve with salmon.

Tomato Salad

Peel well shaped tomatoes. Chill. Slice in thick slices crosswise. Spread each slice with stiff mayonnaise and cover with finely chopped celery and green pepper, with a little grated onion for flavor; put together sandwich style allowing the filling to peep out the sides. Top with a spoonful of mayonnaise. Serve very cold in lettuce.

Chili Con Carne

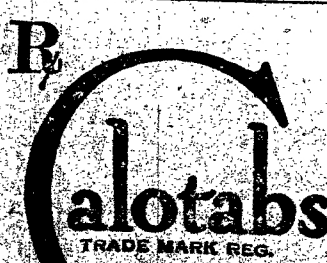

1 pound beef
1 tablespoon butter
1 medium onion—chopped
1 can kidney beans
1 small can tomatoes
Salt and pepper
1/2 teaspoon chili powder.
Cut beef into small pieces and brown with butter and chopped onion. Add beans and stir until well blended. Add tomatoes and season with salt and pepper. Add chili powder. Cook slowly for half hour.

Angel Dessert

Whip half a pint of cream stiff, then fold into it one cup of angel cake torn into very small pieces, half a cup of marshmallows quartered, a quarter of a cup of green cherries quartered and a cup of blanched almonds shredded. Mix together lightly, pile in sherbert glasses and chill. Garnish with green cherries.

Frosted Apricot Tartlets

Use a sponge cake. Prepare 2 slices about 2 inches square and 1/2 inch thick. Make into sandwiches, spreading apricot jam between the slices. Frost all over with a chocolate frosting. Garnish each tartlet with a candied cherry.

That Sales Tax Baby Is A Humdinger—

Oh boy! If you didn't get caught in this net it was because you gre below the notice of a politician, and that is getting low, especially around election time. The guy that eats bread and meat gets the maximum, and the firms that sell the most of it get the minimum. Sawmills under sales tax bill will do double duty. On their gross sales they are required the pay one-fourth of one per cent and further down the line they are invoiced for 2 per cent severance tax. If we were running a sawmill, the severance tax and abolition to the advalorem tax. If it wouldn't scorch your whiskers, they caught newspapers for 2 per cent. We have three newspapers now. We will soon have only one because there is only about 2 per cent left.

Below we give the rates as published in the current press reports:

"Retailers, 2 per cent; wholesalers one-eighth of one per cent; manufacturers of brick, drain tile, building tile, sewer pipe, cement and clay products, 1 per cent; bottled soft drinks, 1 per cent; on gross income of manufacturer; ice factories, one-fourth of 1 per cent; cotton seed oil mills, one-fourth of 1 per cent; lumber, cotton mills, timber products and automobile accessories, one-fourth of 1 per cent; automobile tractor and truck dealers, 1 per cent; industrial gas and electricity sales, 1 per cent; commercial and domestic gas and electric sales and income from street railways, 2 per cent; railroads, busses, pine lines, telephone and telegraph companies, sleeping cars and express, 2 per cent of gross contracting, 1 per cent of gross; severance oil, 2 per cent; gas 2 1/2 per cent; timber, limestone, sand and gravel with freight deducted, 2 per cent and all those paying privilege taxes including lawyers, newspapers, doctors, dentists, accountants, engineers, architects, gins, compresses, insurance agents, cleaning and pressing, repair shops, real estate agents, brokers, commission merchants and hotels, 2 per cent of gross.

All classifications falling under the gross receipts tax are entitled to a $1200 exemption under provisions of the bill.—Picyune Item.

BILOXI STILL TOPS MISSISSIPPI COAST BASEBALL LOOP

Waveland Defeats Pass and Gautier Takes Bay St. Louis Into Camp.

Biloxi still remained on top of the Mississippi Coast League standing today although Gulfport protested a 4-3 decision in the feature game of the fourth round play at Gulfport Sunday when the two teams battled 12 innings. Gulfport contended that the umpire changed his decision counting a Biloxi run that scored from first when the batter failed to touch second base.

In the other two games of the schedule Waveland sprang a surprise in handing Pass Christian a 3-2 defeat while Gautier had an easy time winning over Bay St. Louis 14 to 5.

Waveland Wallops

Waveland's Green Sox sprang the surprise of the day in handing a licking by some timely longdistance hitting and loose Pirie fielding while Tom "Lefty" Egloff had one of his "good days" and turned in a steady pitching performance to check the Buccaneer attack.

The Hancock county crew got the jump on the Pirates in the first half of the opening round when Levens dropped Stringer's high fly and Hiram Smith and Chester Bourgeois

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

Fine Pitching Big League Outlook Army-Navy Game Coming? Vines' Poor Form Women Net Stars Ready Mastro Get Enough Following Dempsey

One of the features of the Major League this season is the striking manner in which the pitchers have performed. Five-hit games have been common and in the first ten days of play, five 3-hit contests were registered. Besides, Vance, of Brooklyn, and Schumacher, of the giants, turned in 2-hit masterpieces.

One of the 3-hit pitchers was Gray, of St. Louis, who has set the pace for hurlers by shutting out Chicago twice in a week, allowing a total of only eight hits in both games. Vic Sorrel and Earl Whitehill, of Detroit and Si Johnson of Cincinnati, also registered 3-hit games. As for the 5-hit class, they are too numerous to mention at this time.

The National League is out drawing the American League teams in attendance this year, with an average of about 12,500 spectators per game. While this is not quite as good as last year, it is about 3,000 per game better than the American League this season, although the American leaguers are pulling into the gates only about half the spectators they drew the early season of 1931.

Some of this difference may be explained by the fact that the New York Yankees did not play at home during the first week. In its first 22 contests this year, the American League drew 209,800 spectators. Just how important the New York crowd is can be gauged from the fact that when the Yankees opened their home season, 60,000 spectators saw the first game.

As the baseball season gets under way and swings into its second week, one is impressed by the poor start of the Cardinals and the failure of Philadelphia hurling acts to some through their tough assignment against New York and Washington. While Grove won his opening game against the Senators, he was rudely shelled in New York and Earnshaw has been given a severe manhandling. Detroit seems to be inclined to make a fight for the top place with Washington and while Bucky Harris appears to have a pretty good combination, it is doubtful if the Tigers will be so high after they run into the Eastern teams.

In the National League, one finds it more difficult to draw any conclusions from the early playing and it will be necessary to wait until the

HOW ONE MAN LOST 22 POUNDS

Mr. Herman Runkis of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—my first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all the aches and swellings out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on diet and lost 22 pounds and now I feel like a new man."

To lose fat SAFELY and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle at any drug store in the world and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back. All good druggists will be glad to supply you.

Bay St. Louis managed to bunch three hits, a base on balls and an error at second base in the sixth to count a trio of runs. Then in the ninth the Panthers staged a rally to count a couple of runs on three hits and a base on balls.

"BB" Joachim and "Polly Armstrong led the Gautier stick attack with four hits each. Westbrook, catching his first game of the season with Gautier, led in extra-base connections with a pair of doubles.

DAMAGES FLOWERS AT PASS.

A reward of $25 has been offered by Mayor J. H. Spence for information leading to arrest of persons who damaged flowers and broke flower pots which are set out along the beach boulevard in the business section of Pass Christian. The stone jars were set out sometime ago by the Pass Christian Garden Club as part of the general beautification work in Pass Christian, and last week a number of these pots were broken and flowers planted in others were destroyed.

teams are going to see just how they stand.

While there is no assurance that the Navy and Army will resume football relations this year, Major-General Wm. R. Smith, retiring Superintendent of West Point, believes that the service institutions will shortly resume their football relations. He expresses the opinion that the difficulties which resulted in a break five years ago will be smoothed over and forgotten and that public opinion will hasten the resumption of the annual contest.

The experts are beginning to worry about Ellsworth Vines, Jr., who was hailed last year as the tennis giant who would regain the Davis Cup for this country. The national champion has been beaten four times in the last month and whether this is due to slow development this year or not is what puzzles the sidelines.

This Pasadena youngster lost the Los Angeles City title to Lester Stofen, was put out of the Houston Tournament in the second round by Buxby, and lost the Tulane and the North and South Tournaments in the final round to Wilmer Allison.

American women tennis stars are preparing to invade Europe. This month sees Helen Jacobs and Mrs. Helen Wills Moody on their way and next month Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper and Miss Sarah Palfrey will cross the big pond. The four of them will comprise the team in the Wightman Cup contest at Wimbledon in June and will later take part in the championships events there. Mrs. Moody will captain the team, all members of which hail from California except Miss Palfrey, who is from Boston.

Last year Mrs. George W. Wightman had the place of Mrs. Moody and defeated the British by the widest margin since 1927. With Mrs. Moody on the team and in view of the fine showing of Miss Palfrey in the Bermuda championship this winter, the Americans ought to be able to win again. No announcement has come from England as to the selection of the British players.

You can say one thing for Earl Mastro, once leading featherweight title contender. The other night he began a ten-round battle with Varias Milling, at Sacramento and took an awful drubbing for eight rounds. In the middle of the ninth, Mastro walked over to the referee, Toby Irwin, and said: "I've got enough, I'm hating the fight." He said he had sinus trouble and was threatened with blindness. Anyhow, he is one of a very few boxers who know when they have enough.

Following the example of Jack Dempsey, who is credited with making several hundred thousand dollars on his "come-back" exhibition tour, Jess Willard, near fifty, Jack Johnson and Georges Carpentier are said to be ready to throw their hats into the ring and climb into the fighting. If there exists people who want to pay to see these worthies amble through a few rounds, we have no objection, but if they think they will do anything like the business that follows Dempsey they are entitled to another guess.

Schmeling, Sharkey will have an advantage that so far as we know, has never been on the side of the challenger. He believes he can beat the German but admits that if he gets careless, a sudden blow might put him down. However, Sharkey's ace in the hole is Ernie Schaaf. Says the Boston glob: "I'll either be the next heavyweight champion or I'll own the fighter who is. If Schmeling-licks me, Schaaf will lick him."

ECONOMY COMMITTEE APPROVES CUT IN FEDERAL SALARIES

Over $1,000 Per year—Rejection of General Sales Tax
Likely By Both Democrats and Republicans—Alien
Wives and Husbands on Equal Basis.

By Representative Robert S. Hall.

CAPITOL HILL, APRIL 25.—House approval of a measure for stabilizing the value of the dollar, introduced by Representative Goldsborough of Maryland, seems practically assured. This legislation directs the Federal Reserve Board to endeavor to restore the average commodity price level of the period of 1921 to 1929. This, it is generally believed, would tend to boost commodity prices and pave the way for better times.

ECONOMISTS FAVOR PAYING VETERANS' BONUS.

Hearings on measures providing for immediate payment of veterans' adjusted compensation certificates continue before the House Ways and Means committee. During last week many nationally prominent economists and high government officials advocated paying these certificates in the interest of the veterans and of the general welfare. It is generally conceded that dollars are too scarce and their value too high; that there is entirely too much disparity between monetary and commodity values, and that no better plan of increasing the circulation of currency than distribution of more than two billion dollars among three and a half million veterans has yet been hit upon. The Patman plan, or a modification thereof, seems most likely to be accepted. The plan of former Senator Owen of Oklahoma has elicited considerable favor. It provides for using the certificates as the basis for issuing 4 per cent government bonds, which would be exchanged for Federal reserve notes for paying off the veterans. A provision for selling off bonds and retiring the money received therefrom permits regulation of currency expansion.

HOME APPROVES CUT IN FED- ERAL EMPLOYEES' SALARIES.

The House Economy committee has approved an 11 per cent cut in salaries of Federal employees making more than $1,000 a year. Only that part of the salary in excess of $1,000 would be subject to reduction. President Hoover's plan of a five-day week per diem workers and furloughs without pay for those on a yearly basis will probably be offered as a substitute on the House floor. The Economy Committee is also considering ways and means of reorganizing the Shipping Board and merging the War and Navy Departments into a solitary Department of National Defense as a means of further reducing the Federal overhead.

GENERAL SALES TAX MEASURE REJECTED.

The Senate Finance Committee has completed hearings on the billion dollar revenue bill and speedy enactment of the measure is anticipated. Although numerous witnesses urged restoration of the general manufacturers' sales tax, this feature now seems to be a dead letter. Most Democratic senators as well as many Republicans seem constrained to accept House rejection of the general sales tax as final.

HYDE'S PLAN CRITICIZED.

Considerable opposition has been shown against a joint resolution authorizing Secretary of Agriculture Hyde to divert $100,000,000 of the $250,000,000 allocated for loans to Agriculture under the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act to the Federal Farm Board for financing the sale of wheat and cotton in foreign markets. It is undoubtedly the will of the majority that this fund be administered in accordance with the intent of Congress, namely as loans to farmers. There has been much complaint against the manner in which Secretary Hyde is administering this fund and it has been openly charged that he is not cooperating with Congress in its endeavor to provide credit for farmers unable to borrow elsewhere. In fact, he has publicly stated that "Converting the Department of Agriculture in to a loan agency is the prize boob in the history of finance." That is a peculiar position for the head of the Department of Agriculture to take. If he were sympathetically interested in the welfare of farmers, it stands to reason that he would endeavor to help them obtain the requisite credit instead of belittling the administration of funds placed in his hands expressly for that purpose. Besides, in all probability, collateral posted by some banks and railroads is just as thin as Mr. Hyde says that put up by the farmers is.

lived only preferred status under the quotas. This amendment places both on an equal footing. However they must establish proof of fitness for American citizenship as required under the immigration law.

TEN-MILLION-DOLLAR APPROPRIATION.

With reference to previously approved legislation authorizing the re-appropriation of $10,000,000 to aid in establishing agricultural credit corporations, or for increasing the capital stock of such corporations, this item is carried in the regular agricultural appropriation bill; which after being agreed upon in conference, is being held up pending the outcome of a Senate motion to re-commit it to the agricultural committee for further consideration. Hence the law will not become effective until the appropriation bill is approved. The Secretary of Agriculture subsequently will announce rules and regulations governing the loans. Under the act he is authorized to advance to individuals for forming credit corporations, with a minimum capital of $10,000, up to 75 per cent of the paid in capital stock. For example, a person desiring to subscribe for stock to the extent of $1,000, if eligible could borrow $750 from the revolving fund. The stock of the corporation would be deposited in an intermediate credit bank as collateral for loans.

We assure them that the best will be made of the additional time.
